Vinesh Phogat Wins Spanish Grand Prix

- In a perfect build-up to the Paris Olympics, top Indian wrestler Vinesh Phogat clinched the women's 50kg gold medal at the Grand Prix of Spain.
- The two-time World Championship bronze medallist defeated Mariia Tiumerekova in the final to bag the gold.
- Mariia is a former Russian wrestler who is now competing as an Individual Neutral Athlete.
- The 29-year-old former Asian Games gold medallist first beat Pan American champion Yusneylis Guzman of Cuba.
- The title in Spain won't have any bearing on Vinesh's prospects for the Paris Olympics.
- But it would certainly give her a much-needed boost heading into the Games.
- After her training-cum-competition stint in Spain, Vinesh will travel to France for a 20-day camp.

Q. Which Indian wrestler clinched the women's 50kg gold medal at the Grand Prix of Spain? Vinesh Phogat

Reformist Masoud Pezeshkian elected Iran's new president

- Reformist Masoud Pezeshkian has been elected as Iran's new president, beating his hardline conservative rival Saeed Jalili.
- The vote was declared in Dr Pezeshkian's favour after he secured 53.3% of the more than 30 million votes counted. Mr Jalili polled at 44.3%.
- The run-off came after no candidate secured a majority in the first round of the election on 28 June, which saw a historically low voter turnout of 40%.
- The election was called after Iran's previous president Ebrahim Raisi was killed in a helicopter crash in May, in which seven others also died.
- Dr Pezeshkian, a 71-year-old heart surgeon and member of the Iranian parliament, is critical of Iran's notorious morality police and caused a stir after promising "unity and cohesion", as well as an end to Iran's "isolation" from the world.
- He has also called for "constructive negotiations" with Western powers over a renewal of the faltering 2015 nuclear deal in which Iran agreed to curb its nuclear programme in return for an easing of Western sanctions.

Q. Who has been elected as Iran's new president, beating his hardline conservative rival Saeed Jalili? Masoud Pezeshkian

Lewis Hamilton wins record-extending ninth British GP

- When Lewis Hamilton won his third consecutive race in 2021 in the Saudi Arabian Grand Prix on the Jeddah Street Circuit, he undoubtedly did not expect to wait 945 days for his next victory.
- Beating Max Verstappen to the line by 1.465 seconds, he scored a record-extending ninth British Grand Prix victory at Silverstone and the 104th win of his storied career.
- Verstappen was also fast on the hard tires and took second place from Norris in the closing laps, but there was not enough time to catch Hamilton.
- Hamilton's first British GP victory came in 2008. His ninth and most recent win on that track was in 2021.
- Hamilton will depart Mercedes in 2025 to race for Ferrari, and he wanted to reward the team he joined in 2013.
