INTERNATIONAL

1) "Start Me Up,"

- The mission had been dubbed "Start Me Up," channeling the Rolling Stones to herald a new era of British space travel.
- The rocket was set to make history, carrying satellites on what would be the first-ever orbital launch from the U.K. But Virgin Orbit says its Launcher One rocket "experienced an anomaly" just before it could deliver its payload, and the craft was lost.
- Now, officials say, they'll start again, noting that the mission set a new precedent for the U.K. and proved the viability of their long-term plans.
